

Kalamazoo's new book store!

The grand opening of Kalamazoo's new book store "Book Nook" has people overjoyed. Book Nook is owned by Kalamazoo native, Madison Richardson and is located at 123 book street. There is a wide array of books spanning from horror to history. A grand opening sale is going on now, from today to Friday all books are buy one get one free. Madison is hoping this deal will bring in new customers. Madison is an avid book reader and her favorite book is The Goldfinch.

Madison spent 6 months remodeling the store that was previously a Mcdonalds. She included a coffee bar in the back as well as many other exciting additions. She wants the shop to be a place where the community can connect. "This store is going to be me and my friend's new hangout" says a local teenager. Book Nook is open every day except sunday. Come on in and read some books!
